

President Obama,
Chief Justice Roberts, &
Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi,

Fellow Americans,

Some months ago, a lawful criminal indictment was brought against a number of fellow citizens; to include agents and officials of this government. Those officials named have perverted this government's sovereign offices and powers into schemes of self-enrichment and weapons of despotism. Said indictment articulated quite clearly that if this criminal matter were to be ignored and this indictment denied, that said dereliction would evidence an abrogation of this sovereign's duty to establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense and promote our general Welfare; an abandonment of the Constitution of the United States in its entirety.

No response or acknowledgement was received on the part of the President; the Attorney General; the Inspector Generals for Treasury, Homeland Security and Justice; or legislative officials served (535). And in spite of Petition for Writs of Mandamus and Prohibition, the Supreme Court, like the Executive and Legislative branches of this government, turned a blind eye; essentially acknowledging and endorsing such criminal and treasonous activity.

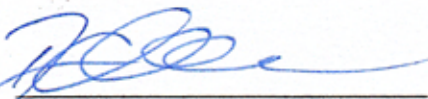

In this matter, I have petitioned this government repeatedly. Even to the extent of bringing said public indictment, Enemies in War, at my own expense and peril. It is with great dismay that I recognize now the criminal and despotic nature to which we, the people of this nation, have permitted this government to descend. This sovereign's acts and acts of omission have; subverted the very Constitution from which it points to for authority; permitted its officers to violate the most basic of human rights; and, aided and abetted our enemies, both foreign and domestic.

In either case, this government has been fully apprised. Even to the extent of warning you, Mr. Obama, that if you, the highest executive officer of this nation, were to refuse by either act or act of omission, to prosecute your sworn duties in this matter, then you may very well become the president of this Nation, but not the President of the United States: as the United States of America is a land of laws to which both citizen and sovereign are held. Therefore, having the material knowledge to such corruption, I, as a free American, can no longer consent to such governance. A government that capitalizes on the spirit of a free society, such as the United States of America provides, while withholding the embodiment, is merely a fraud. To that end, I leave it in the words of our forefathers as I could not state it any better here:

In every stage of this Oppression I have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: My repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Government, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyranny, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. I must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces my Separation, and hold this federal government as I hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends. Whereupon, I am, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent; that I am Absolved from all Allegiance to this government, and all political connection between myself and this Sovereign, is and ought to be totally dissolved.

I am no longer subject to the laws, codes or powers of this government. I am free to live, come, and go from America, my home country, as I see fit.

So say I, Brian Kilcullen, this 3rd day of July, 2009.

Brian Kilcullen, American
